

Alarm sounded after steep fall in tally of common seals around UK

Sunday, 19 October 2008 21:31 -

Marine biologists have warned of significant and serious changes in the seas around Britain after detecting a steep and "frightening" fall in the numbers of common seals around the coast.

More...