

Teenager who won right to die: 'I have had too much trauma'

Tuesday, 11 November 2008 17:10 -

A terminally ill teenager who won a legal battle against a hospital's attempt to force her to have a life-saving heart transplant said today she had endured "too much trauma".

Hannah Jones, 13, from Marden, Herefordshire, who has been in and out of hospital since the age of four, said she did not want to go through any more operations.

More...