

Only about a dozen reporters are currently embedded with U.S. forces in Iraq -- a shockingly low number.

The Marine commanders who saw the photograph were not happy, saying it violated a "trust" between the military and journalists.

Zoriah was immediately "disembedded" from a Marine unit and barred from working with the military in Anbar.

More...